"CUT!"

CUT!" is a term used by movie directors to indicate they're thru filming a scene.

We think this issue is a CUT above most and, to prove that's no "idol" boast, we DIRECT your attention to:

JAMES WHALE—the feature on the Director who directed Boris Karloff in FRANKENSTEIN...and lived to tell the tale!

BELA LUGOSI—the Editor's own Tribute to the Master Vampire in the 20th year since his loss.

FANG MAIL

THIS ISSUE DEDICATED TO THE LATE OORA ELLEN "OOE" COBUN AND Her Son CHRISTOPHER LEE COBUN & Daughter KAREN PRISCILLA.

DOE COBUN was one of the prettiest, nicest, prettiest, nicest, sweetest, most understanding Monster Mothers that I met on my famous 8700-mile 5-week drive all over the USA many years ago. The 44th issue of FM was dedicated to her husband BILL, still going strong as a fan of FM. Alas, Dear Doe died of cancer late last year. Few people, other than her husband & children, are sorrier about her loss than—Forry.

CON GRATULATIONS

I was at your first convention and your second. The first was quite unorganized. Your second wasn't good... it was GREAT! I saw Peter Cushing, Ingrid Pitt, Michael Carreras, Catherine Lorre & Forry. That's too much for one person to take—my heart almost started beating! Peter Cushing is great on & off screen. I thought he'd be a snob. I'm glad I was wrong. Ingrid Pitt was also stupendous. Vampiress was perfect, she looked just like the comic heroine She's Fangcaskel. My day was one highlight after another.

122 & "GRUE"

In my opinion issue #122 was one of the finest efforts to date. Your articles were all quite entertaining. The two on Mexican horror films and the treatment of MAN MADE MONSTER were both excellently presented. MMM was a fine film and I really got the fine review it deserved. The roles of Lon Chaney Jr. & Lionel Atwill are certainly classics. Most of my attention, however, was directed to the article 'To the Grue Morgue' by an unidentified author. I immediately recognized the work as that of my friend KEN HAYES. He was in fact the person responsible for converting me into a filmonster fan and constant reader of FM.

WANTED! More Readers Like

KAREN PRISCILLA COBUN MMM WASN'T M-M-M

#122 was for the most part very good. I didn't care for the MAN MADE MONSTER film book, but MONSTERS FROM MEXICO was excellent and I hope more articles will resemble this one in the future. Films from Spain, France, Italy & Germany should be explored in FM. I think BEYOND THE DOOR should've been given MORE recognition as being a total ripoff, extremely cheap & confusing pile of trash that it is. The other articles were very good also, including the anonymous one I believe, however, there was too much plugging for the FM Convention. It's not very stylish to put an ad on your front cover.

By the way, I thought ROLLERBALL was a boring "remake" of KANSAS CITY BOMBERS! Really, think of the similarities—in both cases a roller skating game is the means by which the hero (Raquel Welch in "KCB" and James Caan in "R") defeats their opponent(s) and reaches the top.

YESTERDAY'S TOMORROW

I watched the Tomorrow Show which featured monsters. At first I was not going to, due to the broadcast time, until I saw that Forry was a guest, and my joy doubled when I saw that Peter Cushing was joining you. I enjoyed the show and you were terrific, you showed your vast knowledge of the history of Monstersdom and Peter was great as always. The only complaint I have about the whole show is the fact that Mr. Wolf kept trying to express logical reasons for the existence of our monsters. There is only one thing that can be done with these poor misled people and that is to give them a candle and let them spend a nice stormy night at the Ackermannian. What say you to that, Dr. Ackula?

BILLION VOLT JOLT

When I received the flyer stating Peter Cushing would be Guest of Honor, I only (don't kick me, please) half believed it. So you can imagine my surprise when I walked into the Convention Hall on Saturday and spotted PETER CUSHING up on the platform! What a nice little jolt for me!

I guess you're probably already aware of the fact that the Convention had a homey & informal atmosphere (like last year's). More than a few times I got the feeling of sitting in someone's overgrown livingroom. I hope that never changes!

THE TERROR TRANSYLVANIA

public vampire no. 1

A MAJOR TRAGEDY in film monsterdom is that BELA LUGOSI, who was for so many years a figure of such overpowering importance in the genre, was taken by Prince Sirk to Death's domain two years before the first issue of FAMOUS MONSTERS was published.

He never knew how much we cared.

That a whole organization (the Count Dracula Society) would be created in his honor.

That books would be written about him.

That a biofilm about his life would be planned.

That he would be in demand 20 years after his demise.

The following Tribute, written by your editor, was published in 1956 in the British periodical A Book of Weird Tales and is reprinted here this year as part of our year-long Memorial to the memory of Hungary's gift to Horrordom.

ROM

ROXOR!—would be RULER of the WORLD! LUGOSI at the Peak of His Power in CHANDU, THE MAGICIAN (1932).

Karloff cringes in mock terror before the toronto-like fingers of Lugosi in posed publicity shot in the mid-30s.

Hoodoo they remind you of? Right!—George Zucco & Bela Lugosi in VOODOO MAN, 1944.

requiem for a vampire

LUGOSI stood 6 ft. 1 in., weighed 178 lbs. in his prime. It took a lot of blood to keep him in shape, especially considering he lost his shape every night. All that flapping around. Night owls are generally noted for their thirst; how much thirstier must a man get who turns into a bat after dark.

Yes, Count Dracula was always on the wing at night, so it was small wonder he was such a big drinker. Of blood, that is. He rarely touched anything stronger. It takes energy, you know, to throw off a heavy coffin lid instead of light bedsheet.

His favorite meal, of course, was Hungarian Goulash.

FROM TRANSYLVANIA TO PENNSYLVANIA

Lugosi made his first movie appearance in a Hungarian film in 1914, went on to become a star of German silent pictures and then toured the United States for two years, from Phoenix to Philadelphia, playing Dracula on the stage. When I was visiting in Europe in 1951, I found Bela Lugosi there, still going strong in the stage play in London. Lugosi once told me he had played the role over a thousand times. It was his great dream during the closing years of his life to re-do the black-&-white DRACULA which had played to fainting-room-only crowds in 1931, this time in TerrorColor, Scary-o-phonic sound and 3-dimensional realism. Hollow laughter echoing from the blood-flecked lips of his pale green face, he wanted to soar right off the screen and over the audiences' heads.

NIGHTS OF TERROR

A night at a theater with Bela Lugosi was always guaranteed to be a "Night of Terror," and that in fact was the title of one of his early films. In this picture he portrayed a turban-topped Hindu named Degar. A fiend who killed without warning and left newspaper clippings on the bodies of his victims had been alarmingly active around the neighborhood of a Professor Reinhardt and his scientist-nephew. When the Professor meets an untimely death, it is revealed that 5 persons are to benefit from his will—among them his servant, Bela. The nephew conducts an experiment in which he is to be buried alive for several hours, and while in the coffin more people are mysteriously slain and the dead professor's ward kidnapped. Bela is properly menacing throughout.

Friday the 13th, a traditional night of terror, served as a vehicle for Bela when he appeared opposite Boris Karloff in BLACK FRIDAY. This was one of many pictures in which Lugosi & Karloff were paired against each other. In this one Lugosi played a master criminal. When Karloff, as Dr. Ernest Sovac, transplants part of a criminal's brain in an emergency, into the head of a dying friend named Prof. Kingsley, Lugosi must then menace the professor in order to learn from the memory of the criminal part of his brain where a large sum of money belonging to Lugosi is hidden. This was the motion picture in which, when Bela was called upon by the script to be hypnotized, he was really hypnotized right on the set by the well-known Manly P. Hall. He was told that he was locked in a clothes-closet and in danger of suffocating if he didn't batter down the door, and he gave one of the most realistic performances of his life—almost too realistic!

HYPNOTIZED IN REAL LIFE

The 5th & final Mrs. Lugosi, formerly Hope Lininger, had for 20 years been fascinated by Bela before she met and married him. During all that time she wrote him fan letters. Oddly enough, the same Manly P. Hall who hypnotized Lugosi in BLACK FRIDAY performed the real life wedding ceremony between him & Hope!

Lugosi turned down the original role of the monster in FRANKENSTEIN because it wasn't a speaking part but several sequels later in FRANKENSTEIN MEETS THE WOLFMAN played the monster... and gave another of his greatest characterizations in a Frankenstein film, SON OF FRANKENSTEIN, in which he played the moronic Ygor who cheated the hangman's noose at the expense of a broken neck.

CHAMPION OF THE UNDEAD

The word "zombie" was unknown on the screen before Bela spelled it out with his fabulous success in WHITE ZOMBIE. This picture really put Haiti on the map and zombies and Bela with it. Here with his mesmeric black powers of voodoo he commanded the bodies of dead men whom he caused to rise from their graves and do his bidding.

He played VOODOO MAN and HUMAN MONSTER, NIGHT MONSTER and captain of the PHANTOM SHIP. He was in THE CORPSE VANISHES and INTERNATIONAL HOUSE, and once (in NINOTCHKA) he even played opposite Greta Garbo!

NEVER FAR FROM KARLOFF

Lugosi & Karloff saw a lot of each other—the movie producers & public demand saw to that. They met, each to out-menace the other, in THE RAVEN, and THE BLACK CAT . . . THE BODY SNATCHERS . . . SON OF FRANKENSTEIN . . . BOWERY AT MIDNIGHT . . . THE INVISIBLE RAY . . . and, if memory does not delude your old editor (recollections sometimes get fuzzy after 500 years and seeing thousands of monstrous movies), Bela & Boris were together on the stage in ARSENIC AND OLD LACE. (Anyway, I'm sure they both played in it at one time or another. The first reader who writes in and informs me I am mistaken will be sent a shrunken head—his own.)

A dozen years after the success of WHITE ZOMBIE, he made ZOMBIES ON BROADWAY.

He was his Dracula-like self in MARK OF THE VAMPIRE.

He was with the son of Lon Chaney, as well as Claude (Invisible Man) Rains, in THE WOLF MAN; but many years before in 1932 to be exact, he was a wolf-man in the movie made from HG Wells' book, "The Island of Dr. Moreau." Philip Wylie turned "Dr. Moreau" into a screen-play called THE ISLAND OF LOST SOULS, and Charles Laughton gave Bela Lugosi a bad time in till Bela got his band of beast-men together and paid Laughton back. In this weird-science thriller Lugosi was the product of speeded up evolution, a half-man half-wolf as might happen after thousands of years of Nature's experimentation aided by science.

MANY HAPPY RETURNS

Bela was always coming back. First he played the mad scientist Roxor, who aimed at conquering the world with his death-ray—this was in CHANDU THE MAGICIAN—then he was in THE RETURN OF CHANDU. He was in THE RETURN OF THE VAMPIRE, too, and THE RETURN OF THE APE MAN!

MURDERS IN THE RUE MORGUE was one of his great ones. "I am Dr. Mirakle," he began in his deep, thickly-accented voice, "and I am not a sideshow charlatan, so if you are looking for the usual hocus-pocus, just go to the box-office and get your money back." But fans of Bela never went to the box-office to get their money back.

He made OLD MOTHER RILEY MEETS THE VAMPIRE in England.

BRIDE OF THE MONSTER, with Tor Johnson, was almost his last film. Just before that he was seen in a mute role in THE BLACK SLEEP with Basil Rathbone, Lon Chaney Jr., John Carradine and Tor Johnson.

As a scientist and victim of an unorthodox experiment, he plays a dual role in the little seen GLEN OR GLÉNDÁ?—also shown as HE LED TWO LIVES.

When GRAVE ROBBERS FROM OUTER SPACE was previewed in Hollywood, Lugosi was already dead; but his widow, together with Vampira & his old friend Tor Johnson, appeared on the stage in his stead. He has only a guest appearance in the picture, final title of which was PLAN 9 FROM OUTER SPACE.

LOCK UP YOUR DAUGHTERS, recently released throughout the U.K., was fashioned together from a number of Lugosi's earlier films but enough previously unseen footage on him exists that a Hollywood movie producer plans to create one last picture utilizing Lugosi's talents, calling it either THE UNDEAD MASSES or GHOULS OF THE MOON.

in memoriam

Dracula is dead.

Requiem for the Generation of Vampires.
Black Mass.

A thousand stakes thru his heart could not keep him from resurrecting nightly but at last the Grim Reaper has had his way.

On 18 August 1956, Bela Lugosi lay for the last time in the coffin from which he would rise no more. Scant weeks before, my friend and I had been photographed and televised together just two blocks away on Hollywood Blvd. at the premiere of his BLACK SLEEP. Now the true, the final black sleep had come to Bela. A tired, ill, suffering, disintegrating, grateful-for-friends old actor was gone.

He lay in state as Count Dracula, complete with cape & ring & medallion. Among the many who passed by his coffin to pay their last respects were Zoltan Korda, Tor Johnson, Manly P. Hall, Don Grollman and Bela Lugosi Jr. All saw that he looked magnificent in death.

In death?

But Bela Lugosi will never really die.

Thru the miracles of motion picture & television, as long as there are those who enjoy the frisson of horror, the fun or fear of the fantastic, the shock & thrill of science, there will be revivals of the films in which he starred.

Hail, but not farewell, Bela Lugosi.

KING CON!

no. 2 superdoo

4,000 FANS WENT WILD! Peter Cushing was super mild. Cathy was there: Peter Lorre's only child. Gort held court... Robby the Robot caused a riot... Vampirella just stood there and breathed and caused TWO riots... and Godzilla was the toast of the town (he toasted it with his fiery breath).

A fuller report of the Fabulous 2d FAMOUS MONSTERCON will be featured next issue but in the meantime we let four fellow fans speak out for themselves, telling one & all in no uncertain terms how they liked the Con.

wordless with wonder

CHRIS VEGLIANTE of Hamden, Conn., had this report on the Con:

I would just like to express to FM readers the excitement & happiness that I experienced at the 1975 MONSTERCON. Firstly, the movies shown thruout the convention were of excellent choice.

Thruout the Convention, Mr. Ackerman made himself available to sign autographs for Monster Fans. His slide show of the Ackermansion was stunning. But most of all everyone attending the MONSTERCON had the once in a lifetime chance to meet Mr. Peter Cushing & Ms. Ingrid Pitt! I mean, who in his right mind who likes horror movies in any way could miss out on such an opportunity!

Mr. Cushing is inexplicable. He must have signed 1500 autographs each day of the Convention. Peter Cushing is the most likeable, gentle person I have ever come across. Constantly signing stills & souvenir books. I'll bet he has the strongest fingers in the world.

Ingrid Pitt was also a wonderful person to meet. She was very, very friendly, and she also signed autographs for long periods of time.

I simply cannot put into words how much I enjoyed myself at the MONSTERCON.

Vampi Unveiled! The Femme Fatale, as first painted by Frank Frazetta and sensationally featured ever since in the Warren Publication dedicated to her exploits, leapt to life in the person of BARBARA LEIGH as thousands gasped at the Convention. She'll play the dynamic darling from Drakulon in Hammer's film of her amazing exploits on Earth.

Count Orlock, the Nightmarish Vampire of 1922 (NOSFERATU), confronts Masquerade Judges Ackerman, Vampiress & Daugherty.

The only way that it could possibly have been improved would be if Forry Ackerman was on stage more. On Saturday before the Don Post Show everyone was throwing paper airplanes and getting all worked up. It was really a shameful sight to see. If Forry had gone up on stage none of it would have happened. Because when Forry talks, people listen! Next year I hope he will do so.

But all in all the MONSTERCON was incomparable to any Star Trek convention or anything like that. And it will become better as time goes on. Thank you for having the Convention and I think I speak for a multitude of people.

better than before

"ADOLF" of Brooklyn, NY, thought it a showstopper.

I never thought anything could beat the 1974 Monster Con... until I attended this year's. It was simply fabulous. Altho there were not as many "goodies" to buy as at last year's Con, the guests outdid themselves and all of the events were excellent. It is a shame that so many Fans live so far from New York and cannot attend. They are really missing a spectacular spectacle.

Peter Cushing & Ingrid Pitt were superb

Countess Dracula, also known as Carmilla/Mircilla/Marcilla: INGRID PITTS making Big Hit with Monstercon audience as Hammer Head Michael Carreras looks on and FM photographer Wolf Daugherty beams.

Beauty & The Beast. Barbara Leigh on the arm of the Ackermanster, who "dreamed her up" while flying down to Rio in 1969. The lucky Ms. Leigh will portray Forry's brainchild VAMPIRELLA in the film of the same name.

GREAT GORT gets a totally different reception at FAMOUS MONSTERCON #2 than he did when he made his first appearance at the nation's capitol in 1951. To the throngs of filmonster fans last November he was a Hero!

guests. I got 3 autographs of Forry and had my stills autographed by Mr. Cushing & Ms. Pitt. I was particularly lucky because I was also able to exchange a few words with each of them. I wasn't able to talk with Forry but I did manage to capture his attention and practically the attention of everyone in the grand ballroom. (If you don't remember, it was on Saturday afternoon. You were entering the ballroom thru the main entrance with Catherine Lorre. Suddenly I screamed out, "Uncle Acky-Ack!" and everyone stopped what they were doing to look at me.)

I had pictured Mr. Cushing as an entirely different person. At about 90 minutes into the autograph signing session Mr. Seuling told him that he did not have to sign any more autographs. Altho his hand was obviously aching, Mr. Cushing said, "They are here for my autograph and that is what they will get." I admired Mr. Cushing for being so unselfish. I had also wanted to speak with Mr. Carreras but since it was imperative for him to leave early, I couldn't. Mr. Carreras did not appear to be up to the Question & Answer session on Saturday. He appeared to be very tired. I guess you can't blame him because his schedule must be very hectic. I would like to congratulate you Forry, Mr. Warren & Mr. Seuling for doing such an excellent job.

I missed the auction and I wanted to know how much Forry was sold for this year. I hope it was much more than the meager $60 offered last year. An hour with Forry is priceless!!!

money's worth—and more

ROB SKIR of E. Norwich, NY, felt his dollars really s-t-r-e-t-c-h-e-d.

The 1975 Famous Monsters Convention was fantastic. I mean, where else can you meet Peter Cushing, Ingrid Pitt, Barbara (Vampi!) Leigh, Catherine Lorre, Forry Ackerman, Michael Carreras and Don Post Jr. all in the same day?

When I first walked into the Grand Ballroom after paying admission, I was amazed to see that they were showing HORROR OF DRACULA, which happens to be one of my favorite movies.

During the gripe session of the 1st Monster Convention, Jim Warren stated that to obtain better "program material" for the Convention (they would have to charge $5 for admission rather than $3.50, which was the charge then). Well, at this Convention they did charge $5 and we got much better "material". How many fans "out there" think that $5 isn't worth paying to see a costume parade, the stars mentioned previously in this letter, major horror motion pictures (LEGEND OF THE GOLDEN VAMPIRES & SATANIC RITES OF DRACULA!), original FM cover paintings, Godzilla, Gort, Robby the Robot (and how "he" works) and dozens of other delights.

In a previous issue of FM you stated that Peter Cushing is a saint. After watching him sign millions of autographs for overzealous fans, and listening to him speak, I am only inclined to agree. Peter Cushing IS a Saint!!!

action in the arena

SUPERFAN JIMMY ARENA of Smithtown, NY, went wild! wilder!! wildest!!!

WOW! What an exciting Convention!!! So many stars!!! Ingrid Pitt, Peter Cushing and oh yes—that ugly girl Vampirella. What a beast!!! It was twice as good as last year's Convention!!! It was simply beyond words. I can now truly appreciate why Mr. Cushing is referred to as "St. Peter." He is so kind—truly saintly! My heart stopped at Ingrid Pitt! It's so thrilling to see the Greats so close.

My only regret is I was scarcely a minute with Forry. I tried to get to you hundreds of times but you were mobbed constantly. I finally nabbed you for your autograph but was thrown aside by those creepy bloodthirsty fiendish autograph hounds (of the Baskervilles?).

I have a very interesting story to tell you! It's all about my father at the Convention.

Vampirella had just come out. Suddenly she took off the cape and...! The ballroom reached fever pitch! The flashbulbs went off so many times I went blind. Then out of the blinding light—hundreds of fans went crazy! What manner of madness was happening? I was trampled! My bag—where was it? Who kicked me? Ouch! Hellllppp!!!

I told my father to get lots of pictures of Ms. Pitt & Mr. Cushing. But then I spotted him! "Dad—help!", I cried in a tearful voice! "Help—Help!" But no, my frightened voice failed to reach him thru the stampede! 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6... 13, 14! He couldn't stop taking pictures!

Well—later we went into the entrance room to go downstairs to the merchandise room. Suddenly my father was gone. Where, you ask? How silly of you! The elevator had come up 2-3-4 times and no dad!

Now I was getting mad. I rushed into the room and saw him amongst the heated mobs! One roll of film was gone already on you guessed it—VAMPIRELLA!!!

I finally dragged him away. Thank God he had already taken pictures of Forry, Ms. Pitt & Mr. Cushing.

This Convention certainly was a hit with my father! I asked him how it was and he replied with a devilish grin—Fantastic! He'll never miss another one!

Aside from this adventure, I did a lot! I purchased the film CURSE OF FRANKENSTEIN in honor of Peter Cushing.

If ever there was a Famous Monsters Convention, this was it!!!

COMING! SON OF CON! More! More!! More!!! about the CONVENTION with fotos galore & exciting accounts of the Quiz, the Auction, the Masquerades, the Don Post Show, the Question & Answer Session and all the Other Great Things you either missed (sob!) or would like a permanent record of.

END

An excellent re-creation of CHRISTOPHER LEE in his First Frankenstein Role, one of many excellent entries in the two Monster Masquerades.

It's alright to arrive early for the Convention—but 5 o.m.? No wonder PETER CUSHING Is almost stoned off the wall!

FRANKENSTEIN'S CREATOR

james whale remembered

by preston jones

JAMES WHALE, A directorial name to conjure with. Like Fritz Lang, Tod Browning, one of the All-Time Greats in the fantasy film genre.

But very little is known about him.

He died in his own swimming pool, under mysterious circumstances, years ago.

One man has set out on the long path of research, determined to "recreate" James Whale, to gather together the memories of people who knew the man who gave us FRANKENSTEIN, THE BRIDE and THE INVISIBLE MAN.

FAMOUS MONSTERS is pleased & proud to bring you this portion of a work in progress, this glimpse of, in the author's words, "the personality & working methods of Whale, who died in 1957" and whose real life & reel life "remain hidden in a mystery as intriguing as any of the shadows in his OLD DARK HOUSE."

The sample following is from an interview with Howard Otway, actor-singer-author-producer who manages one of New York City's film revival theaters and who, as a young man, "met and was befriended by James Whale during Mr. Whale's period of exile in the 40s."

Exhibiting Fey sense of humor during filming of BRIDE OF FRANKENSTEIN, Universal, 1935.

frankenstein remembered

PRESTON: Did he ever discuss FRANKENSTEIN?

OTWAY: It seems to me that he wasn't telling it to me, because I didn't know anything about pictures, but it makes sense to me... Everybody talks about the cut in FRANKENSTEIN where the monster threw the little girl in the river. Now, first of all, that would be very uncharacteristic of James Whale's direction. When Whale sets out throwing daisies in the river, he isn't going to end up throwing the little girl in the river; he got his idea across with the daisies. That's pure Whale, to see the Monster playing with her and throwing the daisies in the river, to see him run out of daisies and look at the little girl, and cut—and the next you see of the little girl, she's been drowned. Now, that's typical Whale.

The James Whale Monster was a very different Monster from what followed. After THE BRIDE OF FRANKENSTEIN, that Monster didn't exist anymore. In SON OF FRANKENSTEIN, it's a different character altogether, which once again shows that it was Whale's concept rather than anybody else's.

Now, somebody brought that up, mentioning a famous picture of the Monster carrying the little girl, which you never see in the film. Jimmy said, "Well, that was a studio shot, for publicity." And he'd disapproved of it at the time, because his Monster wouldn't do that. His Monster was not vicious, he was clumsy, & dumb, & scared. I don't remember who Jimmy was talking to but that's the impression that I've had about that scene, that he would have been very much against shooting the actual throwing of the girl into the lake.

PRESTON: I've seen a photo which may be the same one which was under discussion, in which the Monster throws something, presumably the girl, into the water.

OTWAY: Of course, at that time, very often, after a picture was finished, they would set up a scene and take stills of scenes that were not necessarily in the picture.

PRESTON: A friend of mine has a grandmother who once told him she had walked out of a preview of FRANKENSTEIN after being horrified by the drowning scene.

OTWAY: Well, the drowning scene is horrifying without that. It's much more typical of Jimmy Whale to do it with daisies and horrify you with a look at the little girl and you know he's going to do it, without seeing it. That's much more typical Whale. Also, as far as people recollecting is concerned, if all the people who say they saw the 20 minutes that was cut from Judy Garland's A STAR IS BORN actually saw it in the first run, the picture wouldn't have been a financial bomb, they wouldn't have cut it.

[EDITORIAL INTERJECTION: Nevertheless, I, Ferry Ackerman, SAW Boris Karloff throw Marie into the lake with my own two eyes, with a witness—Harold Clark—sitting next to me at a revival of FRANKENSTEIN in a theater in Inglewood, Calif., about 1939 as nearly as I can recollect.]

PRESTON: Do you remember any other remarks Whale made on FRANKENSTEIN or the Monster?

OTWAY: No. I know he hated what happened to it, the way the Monster degenerated in that series, and the way it was played. He felt it was without any character at all.

PRESTON: Did he ever comment on any of his other horror films?

the invisible man remembered

OTWAY: Well, I know that he adored the opening of THE INVISIBLE MAN. If he couldn't have done it exactly that way, if anybody had touched that, he would have pulled from the picture. He didn't say that exactly but that's the way he talked about it.

I think one reason why we talked about THE INVISIBLE MAN a little bit is because when I saw THE INVISIBLE MAN I was scared to death for a good 6 months. Of course, I was obviously too young to see it. That picture so scared me that I hated to be in my room alone, hated to be out in the street alone—you couldn't get me down a basement—that picture absolutely made me consciously frightened for a good 6 months. And I think I told Jimmy that.

He did tell me one story about THE INVISIBLE MAN. He brought Claude Rains over for it. Rains was very excited about making his first picture, though Whale hadn't told him anything about the picture. When he broke the news to Rains that he wouldn't be seen, Rains said, "Not at the beginning?"

And Whale said, "No." "Not even my eyes?" —Rains was very proud of his eyes—"Not even just my eyes?"

Jimmy said, "No, Claude, you're here for your voice."

Rains kept trying to talk him into an opening scene of his taking the drug. Of course the opening of THE INVISIBLE MAN is absolutely perfect and Jimmy would not budge. So he did not tell Rains that in the last shot he would actually be seen. When they shot it, Jimmy told Rains he was lying there just so they could get the impression on the bed. And, of course, at the end, you do see his face.

But when Rains saw it for the first time, instead of rejoicing he still was very unhappy. He said, "But my eyes are closed!"

PRESTON: Did you feel that, even though Whale kept busy, he had creative urges but no place to use them?

Claude Rains as the unforgettable INVISIBLE MAN. Read about the trick James Whale played on him—and his reaction.

Exasperated of trying to teach lines to his immobile monster, who seems to have only one expression on his face, James Whale complains, "What's the matter with you—you a dummy or something?"

an inner view of james whale

OTWAY: Oh, undoubtedly. Yes, I think he was frustrated. I think he was really bitter about not working. And I think it's a shame that he wasn't more appreciated.

You see, I don't believe that in those days, having not only directed FRANKENSTEIN but really created FRANKENSTEIN, the part of the Monster, which is really the art of FRANKENSTEIN—I don't think that counted for very much. I don't think anybody realized that that was a historic picture in any way.

I think there were values in BRIDE OF FRANKENSTEIN that were completely lost in that period. At the time, maybe they were successful pictures, certainly, but nobody thought about directors. I mean, it was because Karloff was so good and all. I don't think people realized how much of it was the director.

When I was a kid, the only director that people knew was Cecil B. DeMille, because he was on the radio. You wouldn't refer to a picture as a James Whale picture, you'd refer to it as a Karloff picture.

I once met Karloff, briefly, incidentally. I was in Maurice Evans' Hamlet, and Karloff was courting Mr. Evans' secretary. They eventually got married. Karloff was that same kind of gentleman's gentleman's gentleman, only not as imposing as Whale. He was very reserved & polite & correct but he didn't have what I call that Royalist quality.

PRESTON: Can you think of any other activity that Whale enjoyed besides the ones you've already mentioned?

OTWAY: Jimmy loved to swim. I find it strange that someone I've never seen very drunk should drown in his swimming pool when he's a good swimmer. It seems an unlikely way to go.

I suppose an aura of mystery is kind of in character.

I don't think there was any suggestion of foul play or anything. Of course, I was here and just read about it in the papers. I'd lost contact with that whole kind of life. I don't know what his life was like in that period, what he was doing, or with whom. We didn't correspond or anything.

He might have had a heart attack but I just think it's an out-of-character way to go. I guess it's possible he might have had a cramp—anybody can drown—but he just didn't strike me as the drowning type.

He was such an alive person. He was white-haired, a very handsome man, not in a Gable sense, but when James Whale walked in, you may not have known who he was but you knew, by God, he was somebody. Everybody reacted that way at restaurants and wherever he went. Waitresses would serve him like a VIP before they knew who he was. He was very distinguished-looking, with an air of great authority. All evening long he loved to talk; he was a great conversationalist. He said so much and he was so funny & witty & delightful that you really couldn't remember what he said.

But he was not one to reminisce. I think you'd have had to talk to him for hours & hours & hours to get anything about what happened in 1930.

Well, anyway, we the grateful living know what he did in 1930: he directed the classic we would all come to know & revere next year as... FRANKENSTEIN.

THE DALEKS ARE COMING!

FAMOUS MONSTERS OF FILMLAND

WHO can save us? DR. WHO, that's who! (Maybe!)

half men... half machines

The Daleks rule a scorched planet with an iron hand—and they plot to rule the universe!

Fantastic... amazing... incredible—that's what they're called.

But what exactly are they?

Well, their creator describes them thusly: "The Daleks are a gelatinous mass of intensified brain power which is a product of mutations after radiation fallout."

Paralyzed by a Dalek's deadly nerve gas.

Are you with us so far?

Then close your eyes and repeat after us aloud 10 times: "The Daleks are a gelatinous mass . . ." etc.

Altho they are jello-fellows, the Daleks are anything but jolly. For protection, they have developed a cone-shaped shell from which to operate.

mad scientist's nightmare

"What looks like a figment of a mad scientist's frustrations," says the author, "the robot's power is seemingly limitless with its capacity of directing rays that can either kill or paralyze."

Whether a Dalek gasses you to death or merely stops you in your tracks depends on the mood of the living brain embedded in its metallic interior.

"Generated by electricity conducted thru metal floors," the picture's producer tells us, "the Daleks glide thru their custom-made city bent on destroying any other form of life."

So that's the word on these warlike beings, a far distant race of aliens who live inside mobile metal cones that shield them from the extreme radiation of their planet.

One more thing perhaps you would like to know about them: they are capable of instantly decoding any language but have one of their own which is unbreakable. Only 2 words in the Dalekian language are currently known to human beings:

Zyquivilly . . . which is the equivalent of our "goodby," "farewell," "so long," "let's split" or "really gotta go now."

And clyffl, most easily pronounced if you have a cold with a sniffle, meaning, "I understand you but I do not agree with you."

Understood?

what's a tardis?

AS DR. WHO AND THE DALEKS opens (it's in brilliant technicolor, by the way) Dr. Who himself is explaining the functions of his invention, the Tardis.

Dr. Who is played by none other than Peter Cushing, famous for his many roles in Hammer Films, his frequent appearances with Christopher Lee in horror pictures such as CURSE OF FRANKENSTEIN, THE MUMMY, THE SKULL HORROR OF DRACULA, etc. (It is also a little known fact that he appeared in the British teleplays of The Abominable Snowman of the Himalayas and "1984.")

And what, pray, may a Tardis be? One of Dr. Who's two granddaughters, Susan, explains:

"I made up the name from the initials.

"T-A-R-D-I-S.

"It stands for Time And Relative Dimensions In Space."

Dr. Who chooses to refer to Time & Space as the 4th & 5th Dimensions.

into dimensions 4 & 5

While Dr. Who is busy explaining to his two granddaughters, Barbara (Jennie Linden) & Susan (Roberta Tovey), about how his time machine operates, a young friend, Ian (Roy Castle) accidentally trips and stumbles into the control panel.

They are all instantly whisked off Earth!

Where will they land?

And when?

The Tardis comes to rest in the midst of a petrified forest, trees that have gradually turned to stone thru the ages.

Beyond the stone forest looms a fantastic sight: a great futuristic city, like something out of BUCK ROGERS or FLASH GORDON.

captured by the creatures

After a long night spent in wonderment, trying to imagine just where they are in time & space, the quartet get out of the Tardis and are surprised to discover that during the nite a box of drugs has been mysteriously left near the time machine. Out of curiosity they pick it up and store it away for future investigation. Then they set off for the city.

Thals fall before the Daleks' weapons.

Dr. Who & the Thals fight for their lives against the enemies.

Unfortunate decision!

For upon arrival at the great streamlined conglomeration of buildings, they are attacked by the Daleks!

Taken prisoners!

plot of the Daleks

The hostile life-forms that are the rulers of this planet have to stay shielded from the radiation that is the after-effect of a massive neutron war that once ravaged their world. When they discover that young Susan is only mildly affected by the impure atmosphere, they set her free (keeping the other 3 as hostages) and direct her to go to the Tardis and bring back the drugs. It develops that the drugs were left outside the time machine by a friendly tribe and can counteract the radiation. The Daleks lack such life-saving medication and want desperately to copy the formula so they can leave their protective shells and go out of the confines of their city and destroy the Thals, a peace-loving race which also exists on the planet.

On her way Susan meets Alydon (Barrie Ingham), leader of the Thals. He gives her an additional supply of the drugs, his plastic cape and a message of peace for the Daleks.

Back at the all-metal city, the Daleks trick Susan into inviting the Thals into their stronghold.

Meanwhile, Dr. Who figures out that their captors receive their power via the metal floors. Covering their cell with Alydon's plastic cape, he captures their jailor. Cut off from the generating power, the gruesome creature dies. The escaped prisoners manage to get to the Thals before they walk into a Dalek trap.

revenge of the Daleks

When the Daleks discover that the drugs are, in fact, fatal to them, in their rage they decide to explode a giant neutron bomb that will increase radiation to such a level that it will exterminate the Thals.

In a series of maneuvers which greatly imperil the lives of Dr. Who and his companions, in addition to those of the valiant Thals, the evil Daleks are vanquished. Moments before the super-bomb is due to explode, Ian tricks the Daleks into destroying their complicated control panel.

With the countdown disrupted and the power cut off, most of the Daleks are killed and the Thals are free to live in peace on their faraway planet.

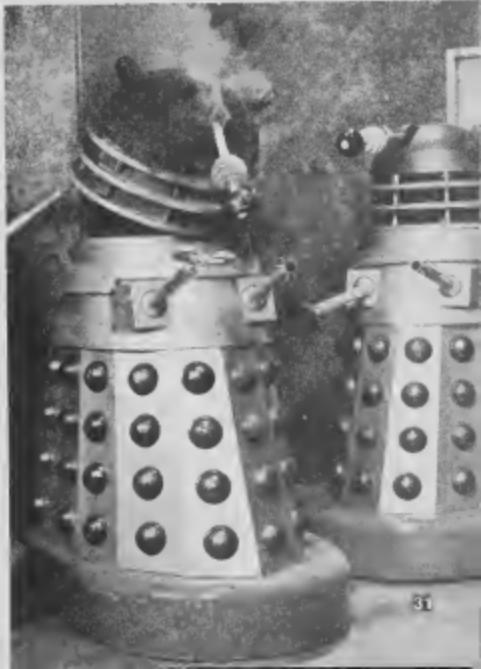

Dr. Who and his party return to the Tardis and their own problems of how to head home to Earth.

They make it—and there will soon be a sequel on the screens, INVASION OF THE DALEKS.

"You must do as the Dalek tells you," Dr. Who tells his granddaughter.

Watch out for these metal menaces! If you ever encounter them, run for your LIFE—or this issue of FAMOUS MONSTERS!

HELL IN THE HEAVENS

zep code: disaster

death rains from the skies

I was 21 years old when the historic tragedy took place: 1937. We had no television then for instant transmittal of horror so it was about a week till Movietone News & Paramount on Parade & the other motion picture newsreels of the time hit the theater screens and then we ALL saw true horror that made THE POSEIDON ADVENTURE look pale by comparison.

Nazi Germany's pride of the air, its massive luxury dirigible, a bloated airwhale, its belly bursting with dangerously inflammable hydrogen gas, BURST into flames at the mooring mast with a blast that left ground crew personnel & expectant spectators aghast. And we SAW what we had heard over the radio as one horrified reporter, almost incoherent in his disbelief, gasped out those famous 5 words: "Oh my god—the humanity!"

The Ground Trembled, the Sky Burned—and men's airborne aspirations went up in smoke & screams.

Proud Bird of the Sky, the Doomed Airship heads for Lakehurst, NJ, and its Date with Destiny.

Millions of dollars incinerated in a matter of moments; scores of human beings cremated alive.

It was the end of an era. The great cloud-mammoths would ply the international airways and grace the skies no more.

With the explosion of the Hindenburg, zeppelins went the way of the dinosaurs, became as extinct as the dodo.

But now thru the genius of Robert Wise, who directed the classic DAY THE EARTH STOOD STILL and who directed & produced the haunting ghost-story THE HAUNTING, THE HINDENBURG lives again...only to come to its fiery end.

Geo. C. Scott is masterful as the master of the ill-fated airship and the cast includes Roy (4-D MAN) Thinnes & Burgess Meredith, of many a TV & fantasy film.

The Special Effects, of course, are outstanding. And since one picture, say the Chinese, is worth 10,000 words, we give you on this & following pages a novel's worth of eye-popping fotos.

You will not want to miss THE HINDENBURG as it RIPS across the screen!

NOW YOU CAN BUILD YOUR OWN MODEL OF THE HINDENBURG! 18" GIANT ZEPPELIN MODEL KIT!

A MUFFLED EXPLOSION . . . AND THE GERMAN ZEPPELIN HINDENBURG BECAME 804 FEET OF FLAMING HYDROGEN AND MOLTEN ALUMINUM. 34 SECONDS LATER, IT WAS ASHES! NOW, BUILD AN 18-1/2 INCH MODEL OF THE 250 TON AIRSHIP THAT EXPLODED, THE MOST SPECTACULAR DISASTER EVENT IN AVIATION.

Disaster! The age of the zeppelin roared to a spectacular conclusion when the colossal airship "Hindenburgh" exploded in a hydrogen holocaust. A saboteur's bomb, detonated prematurely, triggered the most widely witnessed disaster in aviation history. Now build your own model of the zeppelin "Hindenburgh," the largest airship ever constructed . . . the ship featured so spectacularly in the exciting new Universal film. Molded from authentically colored styrene plastic, the "Hindenburgh" kit assembles to a full 18-1/2 inches in length. It comes with full color markings and insignia decals of the name "Hindenburgh," the live interlocking rings symbolic of the Olympic Games held in Berlin in the summer of 1936, the German designation numeral D-LZ 129, plus the swastika insignia, placed on the "Hindenburgh" over the strong protest of Anti-Nazi zeppelin director Dr. Hugo Eckener. The model can be displayed on the engraved stand included in the kit or hung "in flight" from the hanging eyelets. Kit also comes with a model of a DC-3 airliner for size comparison with the zeppelin giant. The easily followed instructions plus the enclosed detailed history of the "Hindenburgh" help you create model of the zeppelin! #24156 / $3.75

LADY DEATH tells Frankenstein he won't exactly be the life of her!

revenge of the vampire women (about 1969)

Santo encounters a horde of vampires & a mad scientist who has resurrected a vampire countess. The scientist has created a humanoid and believes the vampirina can assist him to make his synthetic man immortal.

Santo must defeat the mad plan.

santo vs. frankenstein's daughter (1971 color)

In this film Frankenstein's Daughter has created a monster named Ursus.

The film opens with a battle between Ursus & Santo. During the fight the monster falls on a sword.

Frankenstein's Daughter then begins experimenting in rejuvenation, using a serum prepared with blood taken from the corpses of young women. Repeated treatments with the serum are necessary to maintain a youthful appearance. She hopes to discover the secret of eternal youth with the help of Santo. In order to get Santo to work for her she kidnaps his girlfriend.

After many daring exploits, Santo defeats the Daughter of Frankenstein and saves the girl. Once the effects of the serum wear off, the Daughter becomes a living mummy.

santo in the mummy's vengeance (1971)

the mummy's tomb

Santo, the famed wrestler & defender of the good & just, shares the enthusiasm of a group of scientists who are accompanying Prof. Romero in search of the tomb of Prince Nonok, who was buried alive for violating the laws of his tribe with a maiden. The masked man joins the group composed of Susana Saavedra, Rose Bermudez, Sergio Morales & Prof. Jiminez.

Reaching the site is not without its problems. They have difficulty in obtaining adequate equipment & guides. But they do get the best guide in the area. Don Agapito. They agree to allow his young grandson to join their group.

He's going to have to cut the title down to size so it'll fit on a marquee: SANTO & BLUE DEMON VS. DRACULA & THE WOLFMAN.

The expedition makes its way into the interior of the jungle. After conquering distance, fatigue & dangers, the group arrives at the marked site mentioned in the history of the Prince. Camp is made and work begins in uncovering the crypt.

All hardships are forgotten when the crypt is discovered and they find the mummy of Prince Nonok, jewels and, most important of all, an intact papyrus in which Nonok himself recounts the familiar legend: he had loved the woman Lua since childhood. The rapture of love was shattered when she was sacrificed by the High Priest.

The prince was then buried alive.

the mummy's curse

On the same document is a curse on those who violate Nonok's tomb and an oath of revenge on them. Agapito is visibly impressed and frightened because he is a descendant of the last high priest.

The scientists remove the "necklace of death" from the neck of the mummy for examination by Prof. Jiminez. Then, the impossible begins:

That night, the mummy emerges from the crypt, enters the guide's tent and murders Don Agapito in the presence of his grandson.

Santo & Prof. Jiminez have gone to the tomb and find the mummy has vanished. They hear screams from the women's tent and hurry back but no one is more terrified than the native workers.

Prof. Romero hides the news that the radio has been destroyed and soon after he becomes a victim of the mummy. The workers' terror is beyond control and they desert, only the head man remaining to help. But he is shot from his horse and killed by an arrow fired by the mummy.

Next, the food & supplies tent is burned.

more mummy murders

Despite the problems & terror, Santo & Susana have developed a fondness for each other but are forced to subdue their feelings for the moment when a new tragedy strikes: Prof. Jiminez is killed by the mummy, which takes the papyrus & the "necklace of death." Afterwards, it disposes of Rosa.

The disaster is complete—only Santo, Susana, Sergio (wounded) & young Agapito remain.

But Santo has come to a logical conclusion and arrives at the crypt in search of the mummy. In an electrifying encounter, Santo & the amazingly agile "mummy" engage in a battle to the death. Santo emerges victorious, ripping off the mask of the alleged mummy, revealing the greedy Sergio, who had ruthlessly sacrificed innocent people so he could steal the treasure of Prince Nonok.

Sergio meets his death.

Happily, on horses and with supplies that Sergio hid, Santo, Susana & the youngster return to civilization from their weird, incredible adventure.

santo faces black magic (1972 color)

attack of the zombies

A Voodoo ceremony takes place in a jungle clearing. Damballa the priestess asks Dayanira, a white woman belonging to the sect, to consult the Pool of the Gods. In the pool's water, Dayanira sees Santo commissioned by the chief of the Interpol to investigate the disappearance of two scientists.

So as not to arouse suspicion, Santo is given a contract for a number of wrestling matches which are to take place at the site at which events occur. Santo arrives at the airport and is received by Ariel, an Interpol agent. On their way to the hotel, they are attacked by a group of zombies. When they are about to be beaten, Santo raises a tool in the form of a cross and the zombies disappear.

Dayanira is in league with a foreign power to exploit a uranium field. A man reports the failure of the attempt to eliminate Santo. During the night, Dayanira sticks a needle in the heart of a doll dressed in a white robe. At that very moment, Prof. Klein falls dead. Dayanira, who is a close friend of Lorena, Klein's daughter, goes to her father's funeral.

That night the Professor, who has been turned into a zombie, returns to his home and tries to open the safe but is found out by his daughter.

Santo takes Klein's notebook and burns it, saying he has memorized it all. Dayanira looks at him with hatred in her eyes. She goes to the uranium field, where the three scientists, now zombies, are at work.

white vs. black magic

In a fight that same night, Santo is almost killed by an ax that instead kills his adversary.

Lorena asks to see the body of her dead father. When the coffin is opened it is found empty.

Zombies attack and try to kidnap Lorena but Santo prevents them.

Santo gets in touch with a white witch, Denise, who prepares for him an amulet that will deliver him from the evil of black magic. Simultaneously Dayanira prepares a doll representing Santo and on the night of the full moon sticks a pin in the effigy's heart.

Santo faints and is about to die, when Denise (thanks to the power of white magic) saves him. The girl, impressed by Santo's strength as she sees him fight a man who turns into a tiger, finally tells him all she knows. Police patrols arrest the conspirators at the uranium field while Santo, with the assistance of Denise, undergoes a test in which Dayanira dies.

His mission completed, Santo disappears.

santo & blue demon vs. dracula & wolf man (1972 color)

in dracula's debt

Prof. Cristaldi tells Santo what seems to be a medieval legend. In the past, the Professor annihilated the King of Vampires, Dracula. Now he has received an anonymous letter which speaks of collecting an old debt and that he & his loved ones will die a horrible death. He does not fear for himself but for his daughter Laura, his granddaughter Rosita, and Lina, his niece (who admires and loves Santo). Santo doesn't believe the story until the next day, when Lina tells him her uncle has mysteriously disappeared.

A repugnant person called Eric has kidnapped the professor and holds him in a cave where there are coffins brought from Transylvania. Eric beheads the professor, letting his blood fall on the skeletons, which, upon contact with the potent fluid, take on the form of Dracula & Rufus the Wolf Man. They try to carry out their vengeance against the Professor's family but they can't get at them because of Santo & his friend Blue Demon.

Eric has a plan. He rents an apartment where Rufus stays. The Wolf Man hopes to court Laura. Since he only changes into a beast on nights with a full moon, he is able to carry on as a normal, attractive young man.

vampire & lycanthrope

Dracula fails in his intent to bite Rosita's jugular vein because her grandfather has left by her bed a charm from which Vampires flee.

Not suspecting Rufus, Santo & Blue Demon trust him until Blue Demon discovers him in a meeting with Dracula. A fierce battle ensues but the monsters escape.

The evil beings attempt to lure the girls to the cave. Dracula has bitten Rosita's nursemaid, Josefina, and turned her into a vampire. He orders her to take the child to the cave.

Thru hypnosis, Rufus takes Lina & Laura out of the house to the cave.

Blue Demon & Santo find out where the girls are and liberate Lina & Rosita but Laura has come under the spell of Rufus and it's not possible to rescue her from the cave of the living dead.

A Mad Lab Strikes Again in SANTO VS. THE CRIME RAY.

Rosita, Lina, Santo & Blue Demon seek out Rufus & Dracula.

In the end, the wrestlers & righteousness triumph once again.

the beasts of terror (1972 color)

experiments diabolical

Pedro owes money to a racketeer named Lucky. After being badly beaten by Lucky's men, Pedro is convinced by his girlfriend, Nora, that he should kidnap a girl named Suzy for a large ransom. During the kidnapping, Nora kills a motorist for a car, then they are attacked by Dr. Mathius' henchmen.

Dr. Mathius is a mad scientist who performs diabolical experiments with corpses. The doctor begins to transfuse Nora's blood into the corpses in order to study their cerebral hormones, which can bring the dead to life. But the doctor is impressed with Nora's beauty and stops the experiment. She is locked up with some zombie-like women in chains. Rocco, the doctor's dumb servant, is in love with Suzy.

Suzy's sister asks Tony, a private investigator, for help. Tony in turn seeks the help of Santo & Blue Demon. The three start their separate investigations and Santo finds a connection between the kidnapping & some recent body snatchings.

Watch out behind you! Suspenseful scene from SANTO & BLUE DEMON VS. THE MONSTERS.

It's not certain whether he uses Certs or inserts or whether those fangs are real. Only the girl in SANTO & BLUE DEMON VS. DRACULA & THE WOLF MAN knows for sure—and she's not talking while the flavor lasts.

This loup garou (wolfman; pronounced Lou Goo-roo) grew South of the Border especially for SANTO & BLUE DEMON VS. DRACULA & THE WOLFMAN.

Tony receives some valuable aid from Alma, a dancer in Lucky's Cabaret. Nevertheless, Tony falls into a trap but is rescued by Blue Demon & Santo.

The lady zombies are released and attack Pedro, almost tearing him apart.

One of his henchmen tells Lucky about Dr. Mathius, then escapes to Puerto Rico, but Blue Demon follows him and forces him to tell what he knows, whereupon he dies mysteriously.

protein for piranhas

On Nora's advice Suzy ingratiate herself with Rocco, who then releases the two women. They search for Pedro but find him dead.

They are surprised by the doctor but Rocco saves the girls from a bath of burning wax at the cost of his own life.

The doctor is jolted by a strong discharge of electricity but continues after the girls. He plans to throw them into piranha-infested waters.

At the last minute Santo, Blue Demon & Tony arrive and a fierce battle ensues with the evil doctor & his men. Nora wants to avenge Pedro's death and pushes the doctor into the water but he grasps her and they are both consumed by the piranhas.

Suzy is saved.

"wrestling women"

In addition to the male wrestlers a group of women wrestlers have appeared in a series of Mexican films, many of which have horror content. The films include DOCTOR OF DOOM (1962); THE WRESTLING WOMEN VS. THE AZTEC MUMMY (1964); THE PANTHER WOMEN (1966?); and THE WRESTLING WOMEN vs. THE MURDERING ROBOT (1969).

In the WRESTLING WOMEN vs. THE MURDERING DOCTOR, seen on American television as DOCTOR OF DOOM, Gomar, a human animal created in the laboratory with transplanted organs & the brain of a beast, menaces the heroines. The arch-villain is an evil masked scientist who kidnaps girls for brain transplants. The scientist uses parts of Gomar, a new brain & a female corpse to produce Vendetta, a telepathically-controlled female wrestler.

At the end of the film Vendetta is shot and falls from a high tower.

In the WRESTLING WOMEN vs. THE AZTEC MUMMY the heroines battle the well-known Aztec Mummy, which in this film can also turn into a vampire bat.

In the PANTHER WOMEN the wrestling women battle the ferocious feline females of the title who invoke a goddess of evil to exterminate all descendants of a man who long before destroyed their leader. They acquire the power & claws of panthers and their leader is revived with fresh blood and they are repelled by the Druid cross.

In the WRESTLING WOMEN vs. THE MURDERING ROBOT the heroines encounter a hideously disfigured man.

the panther women (about 1966)

killer claws

A group of "Panther Women" invoke Satanasa, goddess of evil, to assist them in exterminating the descendants of Pietra Santa, who destroyed the grand wizard Eloim, of whom they are followers.

Few descendants of Pietra Santa remain: Prof. Rafael, his son Ramon (a widower) & his little daughter Paquita.

The Professor & his son visit their kinswoman, Loreta, a lady wrestler. She & her partner Rubi win a spectacular wrestling match.

Ramon introduces them to Tongo (an exotic ballerina), his fiancee.

Upon returning to the Professor's house, he remarks that he has received anonymous threats that are related to the legend of the past and shows them the sword that belonged to the Druids and cancelled out the power of Eloim.

The following day the professor is found dead and police are mystified because they find the claw marks of a wild animal on his body.

Captain Diaz accepts help from the wrestlers, Loreta & Rubi, and asks help of Angel, an altruistic wrestler.

Ramon is about to be killed by Tongo, who is one of the sinister women (unbeknownst to him), but he is saved by the timely arrival of his daughter, whom the Panther Women intend to use to return Eloim to life.

Meanwhile, Angel has discovered the chief of the sect. All the good guys follow her but when she becomes aware of being followed she sends her thugs to wipe them out. A fierce battle takes place; Angel battles bravely but Ramon is killed by Tongo, who at the moment of attack acquires the strength & claws of a panther.

terror in the tomb

Pacquita remains alone. Loreta & Rubi guard her against attack.

At a certain hour, the women acquire their magical powers and Eloim is revived momentarily with the fresh blood of Ramon. They manage to get to the sleeping Pacquita but a cross keeps them from harming her.

Loreta & Rubi fight the sharp claws of the women. Angel has earlier summoned police and they shoot at the Panther Women. One dies, but Tongo, although gravely wounded, succeeds in dragging Pacquita away to Eloim's tomb.

Angel & friends capture one of the Panther Women and, confronted with a Druid cross, she reveals the location of the tomb and then throws herself out the window. Angel & the wrestling women race to the tomb, rescue Pacquita and wipe out the menace of Eloim & the panther women forever.

the incredible professor zovek (1971)

In this film a new super hero is introduced, Prof. Zovek. He has acquired his paranormal powers after extensive studies in monasteries in Tibet.

The villain of the film is an obsessed scientist who creates vampire-like zombies. His great powers derive from his possession of a strange idol.

Prof. Zovek's exploits in destroying the evil scientist were popular enough to result in a sequel, INVASION OF THE DEAD.

Sort of remind you of THE NIGHT OF THE LIVING DEAD or THE ZOMBIES OF MORA TAU? From THE CASTLE OF THE MUMMIES OF GUANAJUATO.

invasion of the dead (1972)

earth in danger

In this film two members of a patrol see a huge fire ball fall to earth and go to investigate. They do not return.

At the same time, Blue Demon is studying some strange visual phenomena & some weird apparatus that has recently appeared with what seems to be prehistoric inscriptions.

In another part of the city a Professor & his daughter are interviewing Zovek. Zovek has been giving stage performances and amazes the public with the incredible escape act from an Egyptian sarcophagus.

The Professor tells Zovek about some strange paintings in a distant & inaccessible location. Zovek is most interested in these paintings and after briefing Blue Demon goes with the Professor & his daughter to see the artwork. Zovek interprets it as messages from the disembodied soul of his Hindu teacher warning of imminent danger to the planet Earth.

He has barely finished the translation when a great storm hits. All the tombs in the cemetery open simultaneously and thousands of corpses emerge. They seem to obey occult messages received from the ball of fire which has solidified and emits "magnetic sound waves."

ghouls from the grave

Zovek & his party take refuge from the storm in a cave. From there they communicate with an army unit and ask to be rescued by helicopter but their communication is abruptly cut off.

At the same time Zovek & Blue Demon hear disquieting noises. These noises were made by the corpses who have attacked and killed the Army unit. Risking his life, Zovek goes into the Army camp.

The ball of fire emits the sinister revivifying sound waves and the corpses rise again.

Zovek is caught and thrown into a waterfall but manages to save himself.

Blue Demon arrives with his timid assistant.

The helicopter pilot who comes to rescue them dies horribly as does the old professor. They are killed by a bolt of energy from the ball of fire.

Zovek gets into a truck and drives into some high tension wires which destroy the ball of fire and the revived corpses collapse.

The Professor's daughter, Zovek & Blue Demon all survive the horrible nightmare.

Of course you know Singapore Joe: LON CHANEY SR. in Tod Browning's THE ROAD TO MANDALAY, 1926, shown for GEO. E. WAGNER, BILL & LINDA NELSON, MILLER DRAKE, ALLAN ROTHSTEIN, MARIE SHIELDS, DAVID KEERL and in Memory of TAMMY HAJEWSKI.

For VAMPIRE LOVERS such as JAMES SCIARAPPA & JAMES SMITH, KYLE ADAMCZAK, MARK OLDS, JOE MOE & JOHN SOLOMON, here's a toothsome lady who'd like to sink her teeth into you. Gruesome twosome, anyone?

Presenting BILL MALLONE'S Fabulous Reconstruction of Robby the Robot... in a TV segment of Columbo. Columbo discovered what a fantastic craftsman Bill is, now we invite JEFF McLAUGHLIN, JOHN BIRDWELL, KAREN GEBHART, FRED MERRICK, REBA W. BELCHER, TED ESCOBAR & MIKE WARD to join in that discovery... along with all our readers.

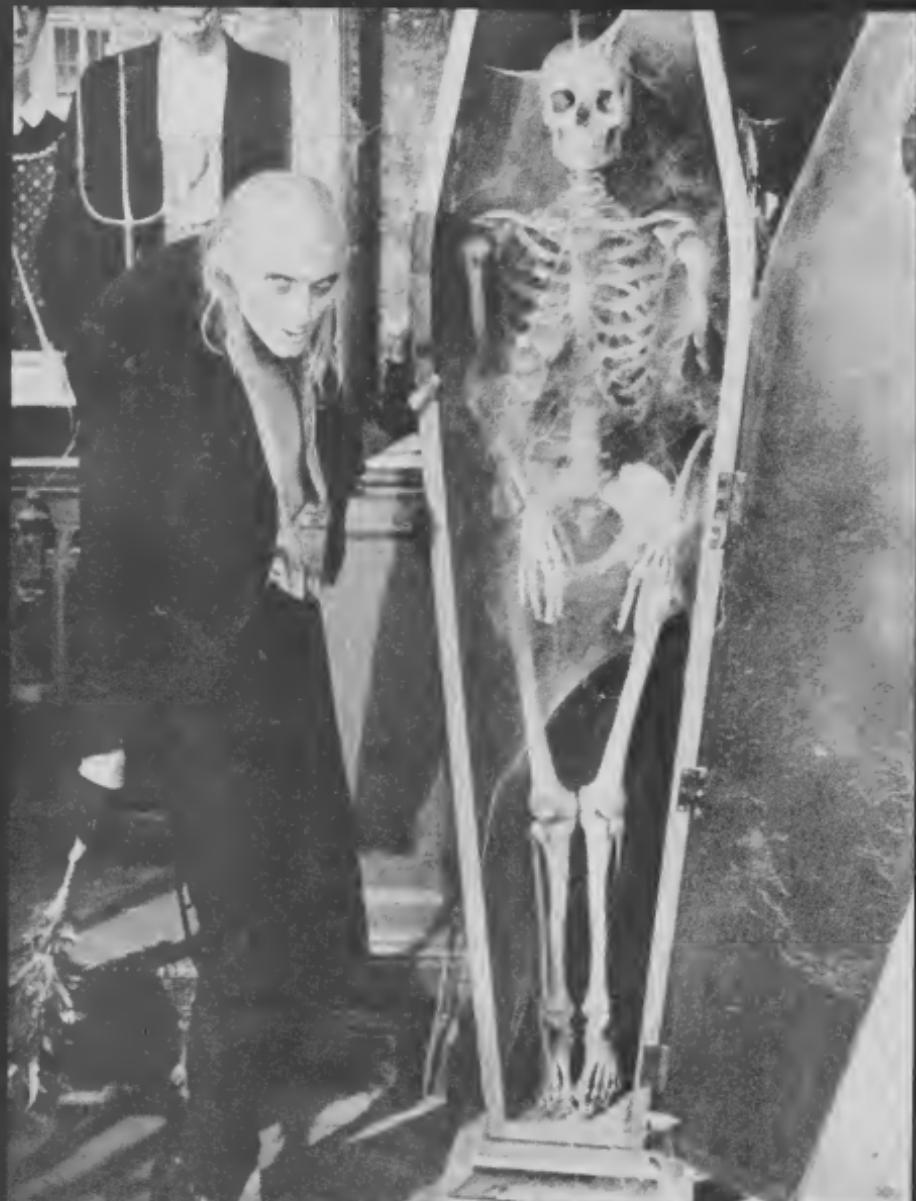

Frankenstein in a Western?! Unlikely as it seems, BORIS KARLOFF appeared in an episode of WILD WILD WEST and is shown here to remind CHRIS GUY, SHERI WACHTSTETTER, JEFFREY RENDLUK, ERIC AU-RANDT, MARY ELLEN RABOGLIATTI, RAY WARD, CHARLENE BROOCK, BOB WILSON & MICHAEL ANTHONY DURAN of that fact.

They've made about a million movies & televersions out of the classic theme (In the most recent reincarnation of the plot we've seen, the mad owner of a tiger let his big cat loose to chase some innocent victims for their lives) but the best ever was the original, THE MOST DANGEROUS GAME, in which the late LESLIE BANKS was unforgettable as Count Zaroff. We show him again so everyone will know who we're talking about, especially HARRY WOLSCHEID, JEFF ROBERTS, GRANT HAMILTON, JOHN HAYDEN, JIM LEWIS & SUE CORP.

THE GREAT WM. TUTTLE, Academy Award-winning Make-up Maestro who gave us the 7 Faces of Dr. Lai and other treats, shown here turning Peter Ustino into the oldest man on Earth in the 23rd Century in the forthcoming sensation, LOGAN'S RUN. Among the millions we are sure will run to see this sci-fi film epic are RAYMOND YOUNG, SCOTT FAD, THOS FINLEY, DAVID LOUIS LAWRENCE, JEFF BARTHOLE MEW & JUDY JOHNSON.

MOVING MECHANICAL PREHISTORIC ANIMAL HOBBY KITS

WIND-UP MOTOR INCLUDED
NO BATTERIES NEEDED

The mighty behemoth roars! And it is answered by a challenging bellow. Two mighty prehistoric beasts charge. There is a clash as the two meet, teeth to teeth, claw to claw. Is this a scene from the latest Harryhausen film? No! It is a battle of moving monsters created from heavy duty, quality plastic and brought to life by your skill. Eight terrific kits! Eight moving marvels. Each comes complete with all the parts and instructions for assembly. A wind-up motor is included. Simply construct the figure, attaching the motor to the arms and legs as outlined. Then wind the key. The motor does the rest. Your miniature monster lurches forward and stalks across the room. The motor emits a lifelike roar. Each is approximately 10" from nose to tail. Own a herd! Each $3.50.

KICKING THE KONG AROUND

I was intrigued to learn in #122 of the "third party" now interested in remaking KONG. Whoever this unnamed party is, he has certainly shown great insight in proposing Daforth for the effects work; no animator is better suited for the job. Daforth's animation & modelwork are slightly inferior to Harryhausen's (who, anyway, is under contract to Columbia) but his magnificent matte paintings & superb composition style are essential for the proper rendition of Skull Island.

Still, one wonders if the remake as a whole is such a good idea, for rarely are sequels comparable to the originals. A good idea of the pitfalls to be encountered in any KONG remake can be found in Richard Leach's letter in #122. Richard calls KONG "the greatest fantasy film in the world," but goes on to recommend lengthening the film by as much as an hour and retaining various animation sequences cut from the original. He apparently does not realize that KONG succeeds mainly because of its economy made possible by Cooper's ruthless editing of anything not essential to plot development (for example the spider scene—not censored but cut by Cooper—the arsinotherium, the triceratops).

If the remake is filmed by a producer with an attitude like Leach's, I fear the new KING KONG may become just another ONE MILLION YEARS BC or WHEN DINOSAURS RULED THE EARTH—a pointless, plotless & overlong collection of stop-motion scenes with no underlying or enduring value.

DOUGLAS BORTON

THANKS FOR THE MEMORIES

While the memories are still fresh in my mind let me relate some of the wonderful things that happened at the '75 Famous Monstercon. It wasn't the slickest of conventions but the warmth projected by the two hosts Phil Seuling & Jim Warren, and especially by the Guests of Honor, made you forget the shortcomings.

Ingrid Pitt dazzled everybody with her beauty & easy manner when answering questions from the audience in the main ballroom. She expounded on the difficulties of keeping her fangs on in THE VAMPIRE LOVERS and finally sticking them in with a piece of gum. The lady has charm, class & a beautifully accented voice which sounds like a mixture of British &

German inflections. And then in came the Gentle Man of Hammer Horror, Peter Cushing! Visibly affected by the standing ovation given him, he fielded questions with unbounded cheerfulness, greeting the questioner with a "Yes, dear boy" and confessing that he loves all his roles dearly. He was so warm, so funny, so human that you just wanted him to stay forever.

THE star of the entire convention and rightfully so! Another standing ovation as he left the stage. Then these two lovely people made themselves available to the fans for autograph sessions 2 days in a row for at least 2 or 3 hours each time. Thank you, Ingrid, and thank you, Peter, for the love you both generously shared with us. It made the atmosphere of the '75 Monstercon glow with excitement.

CON A BARGAIN

I'm writing to say how much I enjoyed the horror convention. Next year I plan to go for the entire weekend. Look what I got for a measly $5: free movies all day long, a chance to get shirts & posters at the shops, the Con Post show the costume parade, auction and, best of all, the chance to talk to & get autographs from everybody from Peter Cushing to Vampires and the Achermonster. I met this gentleman on the line to get Peter Cushing's autograph and got into an interesting conversation with him but never got his name. He mentioned that issue #53 of FM was dedicated to him. Warren Publishing reintroduces Sanjulien. A new format. A new location. But the same fantastic style that has made him one of the foremost artists working in the horror magazine genre. His work is well known. Much admired. Warren Publishing first brought you Sanjulien on many covers of CREEPY, EERIE and VAMPIRELLA Magazines! Remember the seductive red-haired devil woman of VAMPIRELLA #15? EERIE #63's terror struck girl flung before the altar by the drug-crazed Jackass monster? The breathtaking transformation from man to wolf-devil on the cover of CREEPY #56? VAMPIRELLA #36's queen of hearts appearing on VAMPIRELLA #36? Now, these and other phenomenal reproductions of Sanjulien original oil paintings can be yours. In a full color portfolio? A portfolio PLUS! Warren Publishing now brings you its most exciting new product yet. A tremendous 19"x13" calendar in a carefully designed format...featuring some of the best Sanjulien paintings ever! Twelve full color paintings. Eleven reproduced from the best of the Warren covers created by the master artist. Plus one never before published masterpiece! Each painting is reproduced on heavy quality stock...a product of quality printing and excellent craftsmanship...bound by a white enamel spiral. And due to an innovative calendar design, each painting is reproduced in a large 18"x13" format. The calendar portion covers a mere inch along the lower portion of each page! And each reproduction is unbacked. So hang this calendar. Enjoy a different Sanjulien masterpiece for each month of 1976. Relish each painting in this large format with no type or logo to distract the eye. And when '76 is over, you'll have twelve full color art reproductions. This special design enables you to trim off the top spiral-bound portion. Clip the calendar from the bottom. And have twelve Sanjulien prints suitable for framing. Classics you'll enjoy for years to come. Queens, witches, conjurers. Zombies, vampires, werewolves. A classic hero. And Death himself. Plus a new Sanjulien painting...a mythic masterpiece. A centaur, a struggling girl flung over his shoulder, careening into the mists! You've gone to Sanjulien for excitement. Now go to him for information. Know the year. The month. The day. And make each day an adventure. Begin with a glance at these twelve specially selected Sanjulien paintings...the full color art prints that just happen to be a calendar! $26.00/$2.00

FRANKENSTEIN

"Where should we be
If nobody tried to find out what lies beyond?

Have you never wanted to look beyond the clouds and the stars or know what causes the trees to bud—and what changes darkness into light?

But, if one talks like that people call you crazy.

Well, if I could discover just one of these things—
what eternity is, for example—
I wouldn't care if they did think I was crazy."

—Dr. Henry Frankenstein
